

COSMOLOGY, ASTROLOGY & GLOBALIZATION IN EARLY MODERN NAVIGATION

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP 17 FEBRUARY 2022

Organization: Luís Ribeiro and Henrique Leitão

COSMOLOGY, ASTROLOGY & GLOBALIZATION

IN EARLY MODERN NAVIGATION

This international workshop explores the role of astrological practices in the global navigations of the early modern period, their adaptation to the new world and the southern hemisphere, the related matters of cosmology, natural philosophy, as well as timekeeping and calendars aboard ships.

PROGRAM

(on-line edition, all times are GMT/WET)

14:00–14:15 · Welcome and introduction

14:15–14:45

Navigating by the stars: the other side

Luís Ribeiro (Universidade de Lisboa)

14:45–15:15

"Stars about which neither astrologers nor sailors have written". Stellar influences in early modern Chronicles on South American lands.

Tayra Lanuza Navarro (Università Ca' Foscari Venezia)

15:15–15:30 · Tea Break

15:30–16:00

What astrology might have looked like in early colonial Brazil? Some conjectures from and about archival absences

Thomás Haddad (Universidade de São Paulo)

16:00–16:30

Stoeffler in Spain: Cosmology and Astrology in Mapping the New World

Josefina Rodriguez Arribas (Westfälischen Wilhelms-Universität)

16:30–17:00

Time on board: preliminary remarks on calendars, motion of the moon, and tides in sixteenth century navigation.

Henrique Leitão and José Madruga (Universidade de Lisboa)

17:00–17:15 · Closing remarks and discussion

Register by sending an email to: luisribeiro@me.com